POLLS IN FOUR OF THESE STATES NEXT YEAR

Phase two of SIR in 12 states, UTs from Nov 4

DAMINI NATH New Delhi, October 27

THE ELECTION COMMIS-SION (EC) on Monday announced the Special Intensive Revision (SIR) of electoral rolls in 12 states and Union Territories, where all of the registered 510 million electors would have to submit enumeration forms by December 4 to remain on the draft roll. All those who cannot be traced back to the last intensive revision of rolls in 2002-2004 would be required to submit documents to establish their eligibility to remain on the final rolls.

According to the EC, the exercise will be carried out in the Andaman and Nicobar Islands, Chhattisgarh, Goa, Gujarat, Kerala, Lakshadweep, Madhya Pradesh, Puducherry, Rajasthan, Tamil Nadu, Uttar Pradesh and West Bengal. Assembly elections are due in Nadu, Kerala, Puducherry and West Bengal early next year.

The announcement follows the EC's order on June 24 for an SIR of electoral rolls for the entire country, starting with Bihar as Assembly elections were due in the state.

For the second phase of SIR, the enumeration period, where 5,33,000 booth level officers (BLOs) will conduct house-tohouse visits to have enumeration forms filled, will start on November 4.

The draft roll, which will be published on December 9, will include all those whose forms have been received, as per the EC.

When asked why Assam, where Assembly elections are due in 2026, had been left out for now, Chief Election Commissioner Gyanesh Kumar said the Citizenship Act had separate provisions for Assam and

Poll panel to publish draft electoral list

FEBRUARY 7, 2026

Final electoral rolls to be published the Supreme Court-monitored National Register of Citizens process in the state was about to be completed. He said the electoral roll revision for Assam would be ordered separately.

The draft list would be published on December 9 this year and the final electoral roll on February 7, 2026. Electors will be matched to the last intensive revision rolls of 2002-2004, and those who cannot trace themselves or their parents or relatives on that list will be issued notices and required to submit documents to establish their eligibility afresh.

The BLOs have been tasked with helping electors trace their details on the previous rolls, but electors can do so themselves on the EC's voters' portal. According to EC sources, a substantial number of electors in the 12 states and UTs have been matched with the last intensive revision roll. Explaining the need for an SIR now, the CEC said: "For the past few decades, almost all political parties have continuously complained about the impurity of the electoral roll."

He said an SIR had been conducted eight times from 1951 to 2004. In the time since the last intensive revision, he said, there had been many changes to the electoral roll due to frequent migration, voters being registered at more than one place, dead electors not being removed and wrongful inclusion of foreigners. In the second phase, the EC has expanded its indicative list of 11 documents that electors can submit to 13, adding Aadhaarand extract of the Bihar SIR roll. Aadhaar can be submitted as a proof of identity, and not citizenship, the EC has said.

In instructions issued to the CEOs of the 12 states and UTs on Monday, the EC said the Electoral Registration Officers (EROs) of Assembly constituencies would issue notices to all those electors, after publication of draft roll, who cannot be linked to the previous SIR electoral rolls "to ascertain their eligibility".

order, all registered electors as on the date of the order were required to fill enumeration forms within a month in order to remain on the draft roll. All those electors who were registered after the last intensive revision, which was in 2003 in the case of Bihar, were required to submit documents to establish their eligibility, including citizenship. The Bihar SIR concluded with the publication of the final electoral roll on September 30, with the total number of electors shrinking by six per cent to 74.2 million.

Delhi's first cloud seeding trial likely today

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA New Delhi, October 27

As per the June 24 SIR | THE DELHI GOVERNMENT may conduct its first cloud seeding trial on Tuesday if weather conditions are favourable, an official said. Speaking to PTI, Delhi Environment Minister Manjinder Singh Sirsa said that a review meeting has been scheduled for Tuesday to assess the feasibility of carrying out the trial. "The flight will arrive in Delhi from Kanpur tomorrow. If the weather conditions are favourable, we may conduct the cloud seeding trial. However, everything depends on the weather," the minister said.

The trial, aimed at inducing lution in the national capital, is part of the government's broader strategy to mitigate deteriorating air quality during the winter months.

Preparations for Delhi's much-awaited cloud seeding experiment are now completed, with the government conducting a test flight over moisture of less than 20%, as against the 50% typically required for cloud seeding, rainfall could not be induced.

In its report on the exercise, IIT Kanpur, which is leading the project, said, "This was the trial flight for checking the capabilities for cloud seeding, the readiness and endurance of the aircraft, the capability assessment of the cloud seeding fitments and flares, and coordination among all involved agencies."

Capital's air quality remains 'very poor'

The air quality in the national capital remained in the 'very poor' category on Monday. A blanket of haze lingered over the city through the morning and afternoon hours, reducing visibility. According to the Central

Pollution Control Board (CPCB), Delhi's 24-hour average Air Quality Index (AQI) stood at 301 at 4 pm. Data from the CPCB's Sameer app — a mobile application that provides hourly updates on AQI - showed that at 6 pm, 22 out of the 38 monitoring stations across the city recorded 'very poor' air quality.
